

Developing resources And minimum data set for Care Homes' Adoption

LUNCHTIME WEBINAR #2

WEBINAR 2 | What enables staff to use resident data for care:

Implementing change in care homes: what works to support the uptake and use of information about people living in care homes

Who should attend? | researchers, and people working in, with and for care homes

Chair: Liz Jones (National Care Forum)

- The realist review of minimum data set use in care homes | Claire Goodman (University of Hertfordshire)
- How do care home staff interpret and use quality of life assessment tools and scales | Nick Smith (University of Kent)
- Implementation of a minimum data set | Iain Lang (University of Exeter), Lucy Webster (University of Kent) and Rachael Carroll (University of Nottingham)

Friday 13
October 2023
12:00-13:30

Register now

About DACHA Webinar Series | The DACHA study are delighted to host a new lunchtime webinar series consisting of four webinars.

In each webinar, we will have 3-4 presentations around specific DACHA topic areas. All researchers have strong links with the NIHR Applied Research Collaboration and are based at one of the DACHA study's partner universities.

Our research partners:

